About fifteen or eighteen years ago the disease developed in the chape of a large pinhead on top of my hand. It burned and itched so much that I was compelled to show it to a dector. He pronounced it ringworm, and made very light of it. He gave me a wash and told me to apply it before going to bed and all would be over in the moraing. But the next morning my hand was all swollen up and I positiced it. When the doctor came to his office I showed him the hand and to my surprise he told me that he had never exchowed him the hand and to my sur-prise he told me that he had never ex-perienced such a case in his practice and said it was well I poulticed it. After trying his different remedies the disease increased and went up my arms and finally to my thighs and legs generally and finally on my face. The burning was something terrible.
